

JAMES TAY

TAY CHIN KWANG, JAMES

James Tay is a Director at National University of Singapore (NUS) Enterprise and his current assignments are as listed:

- Director of NUS Extension (NEX) which offers lifelong learning courses to interested learners in the community
- Executive Director of KR Consulting which is a fully owned subsidiary of NUS Venture
- Director on the Board of Genometri Pte Ltd which is a 3D Design Software Company which NUS Technology Holding has investment in

James is a seasoned business leader and entrepreneur with 25 over years of operations and management experience across varying industries with broad regional experience throughout the Asia Pacific region. Prior to joining NUS, he has his own consulting business and has held various senior management positions such as Director of Raffles Education Corporation / Hartford Education Corporation, Group Managing Director/CEO of Markono Holdings, Director/General Manager of Commerce One Inc, and Managing Director - Asia Pacific Operations of Autodesk Asia.

Currently he holds a MCIPS designate as a certified / graduate member of The Chartered Institute of Purchasing & Supply, UK and serves as a Director of the Business Angel Network Southeast Asia (BANSEA). He was a CSCP - Certified Supply Chain Professional accorded by the Curtin Business School and SIMM when he was servicing on the Advisory Board of SIMM Supply Chain Management. James has a Bachelor of Management (Hon.) degree from IMC, UK and a Master of Business Administration (MBA) from the National University of Singapore.